Subject: [External] NC DEQ issues permit on ACP; Gov's office issues bovine excrement

Don't even bother. If state policy were really moving forward with renewables, addressing climate change or protecting the environment, DEQ would refuse to issue this permit. Building out a vast new infrastructure for natural gas while singing pretty songs about "increased scrutiny" and a new fund is nothing but hypocrisy, boiling down green dollars into green paint with which to paint the bull turds. It'll still draw flies.
